

Posten To Head Auctioneers In State

WAYNE R. POSTEN—a Monroe County auctioneer who has sold a "complete railroad and half of Delaware Water Gap mountain"—has been elected president of the Pennsylvania State Auctioneers' Association.

Posten was named to head the Association at its annual convention in Harrisburg this past weekend. He succeeds Lee Pillsbury, Bethlehem, who had held the post for five years and whose name Posten originally placed in nomination.

The local auctioneer lives at East Stroudsburg RD 2 and maintains an office at 816 Sarah St., in Stroudsburg. He has been a member of the State association since it was founded 10 years ago.

Posten is a past president of the Lehigh Valley Society of Auctioneers and is now a director of that society. For the past five years he has been a member of the State association's board of governors. He is a member of the national professional association.

Posten is the third generation of the Posten family to be associated actively with auctioneering in Monroe County. His grandfather James S. Posten began the tradition 88 years ago. It was carried on by Reeder Posten.

Wayne R. Posten

Wayne's father, for 37 years and Wayne himself has been active in the profession the past 35 years.

During that time, among other highlights, the Postens have been responsible for the sale of an entire railroad—including its depots, engines, cars and tracks.

This involved the disposal through public auction of the property owned by the Delaware Valley Railroad. This railway line, well-remembered by older residents of the county, extended between Stroudsburg and Bushkill. It was, early in the 1900's, used to transport lumber from camps in Pike County to this area.

When the property was sold, it was auctioned off "piece by piece". The engine "went to a company in Alabama," Posten recalls. Other articles—including sections of track and cars—were sold to persons in other states and sections of Pennsylvania.

Posten achieved national fame as an auctioneer with the sale of the "Pennsylvania side of Delaware Water Gap Mountain—the Eighth Wonder of the World." This was the sale of land formerly held by the Purdy Cope estate. It was described in an article in "The National Auctioneer", the official publication of the national professional association.

Other officers named in the weekend meeting at the Hotel Harrisburg were: Stanley Deiter, Lancaster, vice president; and Woodrow Roth, Emmaus, re-ected State secretary-treasurer. Posten said attendance at the meeting was the "largest ever" in the history of the organization. The main speaker was Rep. Henry Ragot, Northampton County assemblyman.

In accepting the post as president, Posten called on members to work strongly for legislation setting up a regulatory board or commission governing auctioneering. The association also seeks to make it necessary for auctioneers to be licensed and pass examinations for their work.

Ragot reaffirmed his support of such legislation and pledged to work actively for it in the State legislature. Posten appointed committee members from the three major sections of the State to work for the law.

The new president announced shortly after his election that members of the State group had decided to hold the organization's mid-Summer conference "in the Poconos" at a site still to be determined.

Posten said the convention will be held "during the first or second week in July" and that visitors will be taken on a conducted tour of the famed historical spots in Monroe County as part of the entertainment offered.

SO YOU DON'T LIKE ABSTRACT ART?—So you may not like this picture. This time, though, you won't be able to blame "some cockeyed painter." This non-conformist piece of sculpture was untouched by human hands. Created by the slow cascade of water off a signpost and rock gate at the entrance to The Inn at Buck Hill Falls, this work of art will last until ye olde thermometer pops back up within the range of comfort. Then—like Man's own tentative efforts to imitate creation—it will slip away. That time, you'll (shiver) be interested to know won't (shudder) be for a few hours yet. The weatherman (who is a mere hoo-man bean and singularly non-creative in his efforts) says it'll be zero or lower early this morning. Anyone for a tall, cool mint julep? (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Monroe County Feels Sting Of Cold Front As Mercury Shows Steady Decline During Day

LOOKS LIKE Monroe County is in for some more cold weather.

Mount Pocono Weather Observer Harry E. Greene reported at 10 last night that the mercury took a dip to a mighty cold seven above.

The high for the day was reached at 6 a.m. at Mount Pocono, when the thermometer registered 28 degrees.

Greene reported that the mercury dipped at the rate of three degrees every two hours during the course of the day.

In Stroudsburg, at midnight, the thermometer read 17 degrees.

Meanwhile, Joseph Ciampi, Monroe County highway maintenance superintendent, reported that one to two inches of snow fell in the Mount Pocono and the Blakeslee area early yesterday.

As a result, 19 trucks and 43 men were engaged cinder-ing and grading these areas until road conditions were again satisfactory.

Girl Injured In Accident

ALBRIGHTSVILLE—A 14-year-old Walnutport girl was injured yesterday afternoon in a two-car collision a mile south of here in Penn Forest Township, Carbon County.

Fern Ridge State Police said Sandra Kibbler was treated at the office of Dr. Thomas L. Williams, Gilbert, for a laceration of the head and bruised ribs. She was then sent home.

Location

The girl was riding in a car operated by Gene Fitzinger, 24, of Walnutport, when it was struck by another vehicle on a road between Albrightsville and Kresgeville, troopers said.

A car operated by Alek Erdosy, 35, of Northampton, slammed into the rear of the Fitzinger auto, after the latter had been forced off the road by an oncoming vehicle, troopers said.

Flames 'Cut' Basement Residence

FIRE GUTTED a basement residence off N. Fifth St. Saturday night causing an estimated $2,500 to $3,000 damage and killing a pet dog.

Stroud Township firemen identified the owner and occupant of the residence as Thomas Fairfield, operator of a "spouting" firm near the Pine Knoll section.

The residence had been set up and maintained in the basement portion of what was an unfinished house, firemen said.

Discovery

Fire company officials said that the Fairfields left their home at about 7 p.m. Saturday and came back at about 9. They found their home a mass of rolling smoke and flames.

Firemen were notified at 9:05 p.m. They poured 350 gallons of water into the basement, using three trucks and about 60 men in an attempt to save the home. The interior was completely charred.

Exact extent of damage could not be determined yesterday. Firemen said, however, that a pet dog belonging to the Fairfields had perished in the flames.

Cause of the fire had not been determined last night. Firemen returned to the fire house at 10:35 p.m., having spent an hour and a half at the scene.

Liner Tips Portside

HOBOKEN, N. J., Jan. 13 (AP)—A luxury liner tipped slightly portside early today as she was lowered into the Hudson River from a floating drydock.

The 16,844-ton Norwegian-American ship Oslofjord listed 27 degrees when a section of a dock platform jammed — or the ship slipped. It wasn't determined which.

Dozen Hurt

At least a dozen dock workers and sailors were injured. Two men were detained in St. Mary's Hospital with possible fractures.

The Oslofjord, scheduled for a winter Caribbean cruise tomorrow, touched a wooden drydock wingwall but did not ram it.

Jarred out of their sleep by the ship's tilt were 316 crewmen, including some 40 women. As the order to abandon ship went out over the ship's public address system, three crewmen jumped into the partially flooded drydock. They were fished out quickly.

Deadlines For Motorists

TWO DEADLINES of interest to motorists in Pennsylvania occur at midnight, Jan. 31.

State Revenue Secretary Gerald A. Gleason reminded all motorists that the 1956 driver licenses expire at that time.

Inspection

The other deadline involves the mandatory semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles.

Violation of either law subjects the driver or the automobile owner to prosecution, Gleason warned.

GOD... Or The Greatest Fraud That Ever Lived

Almost everyone will agree that Jesus Christ was a great man.

Most people will admit that Jesus was a person of the highest morals... that He was an inspired spiritual leader... that neither before His time, nor since, has anyone performed the miraculous works which He performed.

Yet millions of people refuse to believe that He is the eternal Son of God.

The Catholic Church maintains that Jesus is the Son of God. He is either that — or the greatest fraud that ever lived.

For Christ Himself... under cross-examination by the high priest Caiaphas... was asked: "I adjure thee, by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou art the Christ, the Son of God." And Jesus replied: "Thou hast said it" (Matthew XXVI: 63-64).

"O, sure," some may say, "Christ claimed to be the eternal Son of God. But His claim doesn't prove that He really is."

A man who only claims to be the Son of God, however, could not walk upon the waters and quiet the waves as Jesus did. He could not cleanse the lepers... give sight to the blind... bring the dead back to life. Nor could a man who only claimed to be divine return from the dead as Jesus and no other has ever done.

Scattered through the books of the Old Testament from Genesis to Malachi are numerous prophecies of the coming of the Savior — written as long as 1,000 years before Jesus came upon the earth.

These prophecies describe the family from which the Savior would come... the circumstances of His birth... His life of preaching and His miracles... and finally, His passion and death in atonement for the sins of mankind. All of these predictions apply to only one person in all the annals of human history — and that one is Jesus Christ.

For more than 1900 years, the Catholic Church has taught without change or compromise... as it does today... that Christ is the eternal Son of God who became man — that only through Him can men find their way into the eternal grace of the Father. Upon this truth rests not only the foundation of the Church but the hope of mankind.

"He who is not with Me," Jesus said, "is against Me." Being "with" Jesus is not merely a matter of acknowledging His greatness. It is an obligation to know Christ and His teaching... to believe and follow Him... to pattern our lives to His example and precept.

If you want to know Jesus better... to have a fuller and clearer understanding of His teaching and His plan for our lives... you will find the answer in Christ's Own words as told in the Four Gospels of the New Testament. We shall be happy to send you a copy of the Four Gospels arranged in a continuous narrative for easy reading... upon your request and without cost or obligation. Write today for Gospels No. 8-KC.

Farm Show Mirrors Rapid Advances
Made By Pennsylvania Agriculture

Pennsylvania is proud of its Farm Show and justly so.

It is more than a five-day exposition; it is an opportunity for rural folks, both young and old, to gather in Harrisburg each January to learn the latest advances in agriculture and to see for themselves what other Commonwealth farm families have produced of note in the past year.

As an educational medium it is unsurpassed in its field, so says Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning.

Attendance figures bear witness to its attraction as a gigantic country fair. Five years ago, 685,000 people trooped into the Farm Show buildings to look at the 10,000 exhibits that filled the 13-acre site. It is an attendance record that still stands.

Sticking to its educational format, the theme of the 41st annual Farm Show opening today is "Pennsylvania Agriculture Builds for Tomorrow." The accent will be on the farm youth groups such as the 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America.

A number of Monroe County organizations will be represented in the competition this week and, weather permitting, hundreds of local citizens will be in Harrisburg for at least one day of the show. It's an annual custom with many of them.

Pennsylvania is famous for quite a few lines of endeavor—manufacturing, mining, farming, etc. Not the least of these is its farming, and the annual State Farm Show's steady growth over the years is a positive reflection of the rapid strides agriculture is making in Pennsylvania.

Government Must Share With Public
Responsibility For Curbing Inflation

An appeal for moderation in a number of ways was sounded by President Eisenhower in his State of the Union message to Congress last week.

He called upon business and labor leaders to hold the line against inflation by restricting price and wage increases to an absolute minimum. And he warned of the threat of aggression from abroad. To meet these two perils, he pleaded for a new spirit of American unity.

Mr. Eisenhower, among other things, also spoke out for patience in dealing with the racial issue, and made it plain to foreign nations they cannot go on receiving American aid unless they do more to help themselves.

The President especially emphasized the danger of inflation running away with the economy in this period of unprecedented prosperity.

"The national interest must take precedence over temporary advantages which may be secured by particular groups at the expense of all the people," he said, adding: "... I urge leaders in business and in labor to think well on their responsibility to all the American people."

The President did not rule out "reasonable profits" or "increases in wages and other labor benefits... related to improvements in productivity." He did note, however, that higher prices lead to demands for higher wages, and higher wages inevitably bring about higher prices.

What Mr. Eisenhower said was perfectly true. But inflation is a two-edged sword, with the public — represented by management and labor — forming only one side. The other side, of course, is government, a mighty factor in building or destroying a stabilized economy.

The President recognized this when he said the threat of inflation "requires a firm resolution that the federal government shall utilize only a prudent share of the nation's resources." Not only the executive branch but the Congress and others in government should heed this warning if the public interest is to be served.

In a word, Mr. Eisenhower handed out some good advice in requesting the public to be moderate in its demands. Government spending, too, should be in moderation and the President would do well to use the influence of his office in seeing this theme carried out to the fullest.

George Sokolsky Says...

There's Been No Great Exodus To Places
Where Americans May Escape Income Tax

Some magazines in this country recently published a full-page advertisement paid for by the Economic Development Administration of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

The advertisement was headed "The Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, a domain of the United States of America. The objective of the advertisement is to tell whoever is interested 'Why you can profit from a new plant in Puerto Rico without paying any income tax.' Many who desire not to pay income taxes will be interested."

Many noble sentiments are expressed in this advertisement which is signed by Teodoro Moscoso, Administrator of Economic Development. Puerto Rico "has no intention of winning industries away from anywhere. Tax concessions are not granted to runaway plants." However if a plant is established in Puerto Rico it benefits from the fact that it is free from Federal taxes which is a great advantage, as anyone can know. Also, if a plant moves to Puerto Rico from some part of the United States, no court is set up to determine that it is a runaway plant and therefore required to pay taxes.

According to Teodoro Moscoso, the freedom from taxation is not designed to wear away American industries from the United States and the American worker. Rather, it has a lofty, a noble design. It is based upon the historic American principle, no taxation without representation. As Puerto Rico has no vote in Congress, those who dwell or produce in the commonwealth pay no Federal income taxes, corporate or personal. It says so in the advertisement under Teodoro Moscoso's signature. Further, he says:

"To see how local tax concessions and complete freedom from Federal taxes might affect your own balance sheet, I earnestly draw your attention to the tax exemption tables shown below. I think you will agree the figures are impressive."

They are very impressive, indeed. For instance, it says that if your income after U. S. Individual Income Tax is $51,180, your net income in Puerto Rico would be $200,000. This disparity is not to be laughed at, much less sneezed at and one wonders why half of the population of the United States does not go to Puerto Rico to live, the other half remaining here and paying taxes to support them.

Curious people, these Americans! They prefer to stay in the United States in spite of such an attractive situation in Puerto Rico. In fact, it is difficult to understand why so many Puerto Ricans insist upon coming to the United States, where, if they earn any money, they have to pay income taxes. One would imagine that if taxes were all that mattered, these Puerto Ricans would stay at home and get a tax benefit. No compensation from taxes is a compensation for a low standard of life.

On the other hand, the advertisement says:

"But, Popper, have we got an army big enough to cover Korea, West Germany and all the trouble spots in the Arab world?" "I wouldn't think so, but the old-fashioned standards as applied to territory are out. Once upon a time you could send troops off at the local depot knowing they were going to a war that you could locate easily. When you see boys depart today you may be wishing them luck in countries you never heard of in any detail."

"Didn't the U. S. vote to denounce the British and French for taking military action in the Middle East? How does it make sense for the United States to propose to take the same military action there now?"

—by H. I. Phillips

tionment states that of Puerto Rico's labor force of 650,000, close to 100,000 are still unemployed, which may explain why so many Puerto Ricans come to the United States where, although they have to pay taxes, they can get jobs.

This is not written in the spirit of criticism of Teodoro Moscoso or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico but as a contribution to those who seek 100 per cent tax freedom and want to know where to find it. Puerto Rico is a good spot if you like the climate and if you desire to uphold such a lofty principle as taxation without representation is tyranny.

Maybe a little of this principle could be applied at home when we are taxed to build monumental works in Egypt or in Indonesia or to restore the ancient beauties of Angkor-Vat. We are also to pay increasing taxes for having driven the British and the French out of the Suez Canal for the repair of which we are paying out of taxes and political generosity.

However, somehow one pays through the nose and remains right here in the United States where we somehow manage to live in spite of the tax collector who also has to pay taxes and knows how tough it is. He probably complains to his wife about it. There has been no great American exodus to Puerto Rico or Liberia or even to Switzerland or Monaco to escape taxes although some movie actors and attendant personnel prefer to live in Europe where they pay few taxes and their personal conduct is not regarded as reprehensible.

Nations ask immediate withdrawal!

"Skip that one, sonny boy, and don't ask me what position India would take." "Daddy, ain't Russia mostly to blame for the recent trouble?" "I would say it is doing everything but teach cancer to goaster. He looks to me like a dictator in Sphinx's clothing. His word is as good as his whim. That's the trouble."

"Popper, I just read where Dean Acheson said we are proposing to fight forces that are not going to attack, with military forces we haven't got to back up a foreign policy that hasn't been determined. What about that?" "It sounds to me more like Adlai Stevenson and I think Dean got an assist from him. But it is the best crack of the year. Now run out and play like I told ya!"

King Saud of Arabia is to visit Washington. There's a fellow who can pour oil on troubled waters with minimum effort and expense. In going to "Chock Full O'Kuts" Jackie Robinson is leaving Giant fans chock full of resentments...

TV Rating Services
Appear Mysterious

Television rating services are under the guns of certain critics who profess little faith in survey results purporting to reveal how many of us were fastened to our sets, entranced by one particular show at a given moment in time and space.

Trendex, Nielsen, Pulse and other services in touch with the viewing public at evntide dispense very good news subsequently about one show, very disagreeable tidings about others occupying competitive time. Decimal points are about the most foreboding Twitch of Endor in the whole doggone TV industry. "What's the rating?" is the foreword, text, bibliography and index. Not a program's quality, its appeal or value — just who out-rated whom?

Unrest as to the ratings' accuracy comes about for a number of reasons. One is, how come neither you nor I nor anyone we ever heard of has known anybody who was polled by representatives of any rating service? Odd that we never, but never, have come across a single soul who was invited to reveal what program he watched on the evening of January 11, at roughly 8:42 P.M.—! Or any other night, ever.

Surveyors state that their sampling methods are scientifically planned, that you and I have about as much chance of being queried as we have of being struck by lightning. A few well-chosen hundred TV watchers are selected in a way to reflect the viewing pattern of millions.

Another discrepancy is—how come the same show sometimes receives three widely divergent ratings from three different rating surveys? These have varied as much as 22.5 to 33.6. Sounds as though something's wacky in the woodshed.

Although low-rated performers are quickest to cry foul at surveys' hands, even high-rated shows aren't immune from displeased sponsors. Millions may design an evening's activity around one 30-minute program without which they're wretched for an entire week. Yet, if the audience came to laugh, not to buy the sponsor's wares — so sorry. The magic carpet is jerked from under even the top show. Right program but wrong product for sale.

Another reason for rating's suspect position is, what do they put down on the report when mamma just turned off the set to answer the phone? Is she listening, or ain't she? And what of the multitudes who never have and never will hear certain programs they'd give their left arms to hear — because this blasted set of theirs can't pick up the required channel? And those who turn on channel X at 7:30 so as not to have to get up and switch from Y to X at 9, when the lineup suits them thence through midnight? They think no one so lazy as all that? Him.

I believe rating surveys to be as accurate as a social science can be. That they are necessary and highly valuable to sponsoring businesses — otherwise they would never have come into existence. That ratings mean little to the general public. What difference does it make, knowing how many viewed what — if you thought another program superior?

I also note with amusement that TV critics who speak out against the rating services often state, "Sammy Sloog's show was seen by 42 million folk." It was? How did the critic know that? Who counted the house? One of those services did, that's who. They accept the findings of ratings, whether they believe in them or not.

Try and Stop Me

A lady wanted to spend a month at a new resort hotel but, before packing her trunk, took the precaution of writing the hotel manager to be sure dogs were permitted in the hosiery. It developed that the manager had a couple of dogs he was very partial to himself. This is the note he sent the lady:

"Dear Madam: I have been in the hotel business some 28 years. Never in all that time have I had to call the police to eject a disorderly dog at 4 a.m. Never once has a dog set the bedclothes afire by carelessly throwing away a lighted cigarette. Never has one dog stolen my towels, bedspreads, or silverware. Of course your dog is welcome at my hotel. Sincerely, The Manager."

"P. S. If the dog will vouch for you, you can come, too."

Overheard at a smart tea party: "As a driver, she's all she's cracked up to be."

Should Hungarian Envoy Be Invited To Inauguration?

Washington, Jan. 13—Secretary Dulles has a new foreign dilemma that in some way is causing him more trouble than getting speedy congressional approval of the Middle East policy.

This latest headache is a storm of Republican protests against inviting Hungarian Minister Peter Kos to inauguration ceremonies.

Further complicating this acid backstage hassle is the fact that the satellite envoy already has been invited by the Inaugural Committee, headed by Robert Flemming, board chairman of Washington's historic Riggs National Bank.

The committee sent the Hungarian Minister an invitation after consulting the State Department's Chief of Protocol about the matter. Protocol Chief John Farr Simmons, veteran career diplomat who is retiring for age at the end of this month, advised the Inaugural Committee that tradition and precedent require that Kos be included in the invitations to the foreign diplomatic corps. Simmons pointed out the U. S. and Hungary have official relations; that Kos is the latter's accredited representative, and as such should be invited.

Also, as the committee had invited all other Iron Curtain envoys, Simmons held an exception could not very well be made of Kos.

But Republican congressional leaders indignantly don't see it that way. Regardless of protocol or anything else, they are vehemently demanding that no representative of the puppet Kadar regime be permitted to attend inaugural ceremonies as an official guest.

Secretary Dulles, who is not participating in inauguration arrangements, is nevertheless squarely in the middle of this heated backstage wrangle.

Foremost among those insisting that Kos be barred are: Representative Alvin Bentley, Mich., member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which is deliberating the joint resolution to authorize the new Middle East policy; Representative Pat Hillings, Calif., close friend of Vice President Nixon; and A. E. Hermann, N. J., head of the foreign nationalities division of the Republican National Committee.

They are bluntly clamoring for the withdrawal of the Inaugural Committee's invitation to Kos. Hillings and Bentley caustically discussed this on the House floor, while Dulles was testifying before the Foreign Affairs Committee on the Middle East plan. They were warmly commended by Democratic Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass., and other Democrats.

"I regard it as atrocious for such an invitation to have been issued," thundered Bentley. "For such an invitation to be issued to the representatives of the puppet Hungarian government is the last straw."

"I earnestly hope," added Hillings, "that the gentleman's sound remarks as well as those of other colleagues here today will be read by leaders in our government who are making foreign policy. For if the day ever comes when our government leaders write off certain areas to the Communists, we will be making one of the most tragic mistakes in history."

Representatives McCormack, Daniel Flood, Pa., Michael Feighan, O., and Edna Kelly, N. Y., urged breaking off relations with the Kadar regime. Representative James Patterson (R., Conn.) is circulating a petition in Congress favoring this.

"I not only favor that," said McCormack, "but I would go a step further and withdraw recognition from the real culprit, Communist Russia. That would be the most effective thing we could do to help the Hungarian freedom fighters and all the other enslaved satellite peoples."

Note: Simmons, who will shortly be 65, could have retired several years ago. But the six-foot-four career diplomat was pressed to stay because of his exceptional knowledge of protocol matters. He is rated as one of the ablest experts in that field in State Department history.

Mass Migration—A Japanese industrial group has made an extraordinary offer to the Brazilian government. The Japanese propose to build a railroad linking the states of Bahia and Goias in exchange for settling 2,000,000 Japanese immigrants in central Brazil over a 20-year period. Brazilian authorities are considering submitting a counter offer to admit 250,000 immigrants over ten years. Senator Allen Ellender (D., La.), chairman of the Agriculture Committee, who made a 22-day motor tour through Russia last summer, says one of the most difficult problems he encountered was getting a bath. That was impossible except in large cities, and even then a bath could only be obtained by expressly asking for it.

At any given time, the number of persons 70 years old or over is only two thirds as large as the number of persons 65 or older.

WCSA Inaugurates New Project Of "God's Acre"

South Sterling — A "God's Acre" project was approved by members of the Women's Society of Christian Service here this week at the business meeting which followed the annual turkey dinner for the women of the church.

One dollar bills were distributed among the membership. Each member is to take her "lot" and make it grow. According to Mrs. Lena Roof, who explained the project, it was originally "God's Acre" because land was set aside, and profits yielded from the land went to the church.

During the business meeting at which Leah Scott presided, Mrs. Roof, Edith Simons and Elsie Madden were elected to serve on the nominating committee for the selection of a slate of officers. Voting will be carried out in March.

The annual financial report was given by Genevieve Voeste, treasurer. Committee reports were also given by Katherine Edwards and Edna Smith.

A Family Night Supper was planned for Wednesday evening, January 16, at the WCSA Hall, under the direction of Alice Skelton. Members of the church or WCSA and their families will be welcomed. Preceding the supper, the all-day quilting will be held at the hall.

A "Patch Apron" presented by Frances Adams was opened and yielded $24 for the benefit of the WCSA treasury. Each person contributing had given a patch of material, which she sewed over her donation.

The devotional and worship program was in the charge of Edith Simons. Pearl Hulse led the group in prayer, and Lena Roof accompanied the group singing at the organ. Mrs. Roof also gave the lesson study on the Church in Southeast Asia, detailing the work being done by missions; the difficulties encountered; the effect of Communistic influence; and the predominant religions of the country.

Attending the dinner, meeting, and quilting were Leah Scott, Edna Smith, Anna Smith, Marian Rake, Peggy Bancroft, Katherine Edwards, Esther Simons, Alice Skelton, Elizabeth Tinsley, Lydia Frey, Mathilda Osborne, Lena Roof, Elsie Madden, Henrietta Robacker, Betty Carlton, Pearl Hulse, Anna Akers, Estella Christman, Jennie Carlton, Edith Simons, Lillian Akers, Jennie Haag, Anne M. Smith, Genevieve Voeste, and three guests, the Rev. Harry C. Roof, David Hulse and Sharon Voeste.

Science Dept. Gets Gift Of Womans Club

Newfoundland — The science department of Greene-Dreher-Sterling Joint School will benefit from the project on which members voted approval at the January meeting of Greene-Dreher-Sterling Woman's Club held at the school with Mrs. A. V. Lupeno presiding.

Acting on one of three suggestions for the project made by Supervising Principal Leland Cramer at the request of the Club, the unit approved purchase of a projector-microscope.

A film "Your Community" was shown, illustrating the different ways in which clubs can best serve their community. A few of the projects completed by various clubs included the founding of a swimming pool; founding of a library; underwriting a playground; and eradicating a serious sanitation problem which had resulted in spread of hookworm in one southern state.

Mrs. Carroll Krauter headed the refreshment committee including Mrs. Cora Knoll, Mrs. William Kramer, Mrs. Mary London, Mrs. Albert Madden, Mrs. Frank Madden, Mrs. M. Thomas Mulrooney, and Mrs. Clayton Northrup.

Men's Night Speaker Sets Service Goal

Brooksideville — The Progressive Woman's Club held its January meeting on Wednesday night, Jan. 9th, at the Chestnut Hill High School. Mrs. George Hafner, the president, presided at the business session and announced the entertainment features.

Wilbur Warner, the postmaster at Lehigh, gave the main address of the evening. He spoke at length on the topic of "Public Service," and was well qualified to do so, since he was the first promoter of the Graden Huetten Hospital, and was the recipient of the Benj. Rush award for Public Service as the most worthy citizen in the State of Pennsylvania in 1956. He was granted this outstanding merit recognition by the Pennsylvania Medical Society at its convention in Atlantic City during the past year. Two important points the speaker stressed during his address of the evening were:

a. the need of returning to the community some of the blessings we have received from it.

b. let your community know you have some specific ability and then use it, not hoard it.

A brass quartet consisting of Thomas Mackles, Brian Fenner, Larry Krome and Jamie McNett, under the direction of Charles Knecht of Brooksideville, gave several selections, among which were "Little Annie Rooney," "Bicycle Built for Two," and "The Bowery."

The quartet leader played a trumpet solo, "Danny Boy." Mrs. Gorman Roof, a club member from Brainerd Presbyterian Center at Snyder'sville, accompanied by Mrs. Nevin Dorschner, sang these solos: "Friends of Mine," "I Passed by Your Window," and "The Sleigh."

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served.

Quilters Few But Work Progresses

Saylorsburg — The Ladies' Aid of Mt. Eaton Church met Wednesday for a day of quilting. Due to the stormy weather, a small crowd was present, but much was accomplished, one quilt being finished and Mrs. Mathew Kresge has another one marked ready to start.

At noon beverage was made, and each member ate her own lunch. Present were: Mrs. Rose Gower, Mrs. John Siegel, Mrs. Besse Alexander, Mrs. William Faulstick, Mrs. Sarah Kosterhader, Mrs. Harold Altomose and Mrs. Claude Eckley.

The next meeting of the class will be held on Wednesday, February 6. The meeting place will be announced later.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Between the first thing Merle and Frances Ostrom do when they get to Florida is go on a starvation diet and take a week's solid rest. The number of farewell dinners in their honor these last few weeks have outshone even the holiday parties in number and brilliance.

While everybody is desolate about their leaving, everybody is certainly enjoying the farewell round of activity to the hilt, especially since they've promised faithfully to come back and give everybody an excuse for some "welcome home" parties.

The dinner dresses, not usually too much in demand around the Stroudsburgs, have certainly been getting a work-out these last few weeks with all this fashion furor in the air their wearers were beginning to get a little self-conscious about wearing the same thing so often.

However, two of the "best-dressed" women neatly solved the problem of what to wear to their next party by appearing Saturday nights in gowns, circa

Series Of Farewell Parties For The Ostroms

The holiday rush of parties in the Stroudsburgs has been extended through January this year by the flood of farewell parties in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Merle C. Ostrom, Bridge St., who are leaving soon for Florida.

Beginning on New Year's Day, there have been a series of dinners in their honor. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hallock of Club Court entertained on New Year's Day. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Butler had a dinner party at their home on Thomas Street on Sunday night, Jan. 6. Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hintze entertained at a dinner at the Penn-Stroud and Dr. and Mrs. Claude Leister at a dinner at their home on Foxtown Hill last week.

On Saturday night, the Ostroms were honored guests at a dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Metzgar at Strickland's Mountain Inn, Mount Pocono, and last night Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pedersen entertained at a dinner for them at their home, 732 Bryant St.

In between, the Ostroms were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schell, and Mrs. Ostrom was the luncheon guest at Wyckoff's tea room of Mrs. Paul Shiffer in a reunion of their summer bridge foursome at Glen Brook Country Club.

Carlton Home Is Scene Of Class Meeting

Greentown — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carlton entertained members of the Young Adult Class of Hemlock Grove Methodist Church at their home here this week in the monthly business and devotional session.

A new project was chosen by the group which is headed by Mrs. Charles Schoenagel. Replacement of pulpit furniture at the church will be the goal of the class for this year.

A profit report on the candy sale was given by Olga Manhart, and a report sent by Mrs. Schoenagel, who could not be present, was read, showing the success of their sale of birthday calendars. Mrs. Jean Burdick, who serves as vice president, presided.

Alberta Marsch assisted Mrs. Carlton as hostess. These members attended: Jean Burdick, Florence McLain, Lela Jones, Alice DeFries, Florence Kriger, Anna Hazelton, Anne Hazelton, Hazel Akers, Ethel Wohlfort, Alice McLain, Lowell Carlton, Alberta Marsch, Beatrice Simons, Olga Manhart, and the host and hostess.

The next meeting of the class will be held on Wednesday, February 6. The meeting place will be announced later.

Monroe County continues to make fashion news. In the latest, a dress by David Gothie, of Little Pond Farm, Franklin Hill, was featured on the front page of the second section of Friday's New York Herald Tribune.

The dress, of blond imported lace by Gothie, is being modeled at the preview of the March of Dimes fashion show to be held at the Waldorf on Jan. 20. The preview, given for members of the Patroness Committee of the fashion show, was held at the River House apartment of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney on Thursday.

The Gothie dress was modeled by Claudia Taylor and is trimmed with off-white satin to match the evening coat she is wearing. David Gothie is a noted New York dress designer whose clothes are worn by many New York socialites and by wives of Washington political leaders, many of whom have been guests at Little Pond farm here.

Wesley Chapel WSCS Sets Up New Projects

Arlington Heights — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Arlington Heights Chapel met in the social rooms on Wednesday noon. Following the covered dish supper, a business meeting was held. Mrs. Gertrude Fitzgerald gave the invocation.

Different projects for the year ahead were planned. The members have started a "rainy day" bank in which they will deposit a penny for each rainy day in the year and a "tree plate" on which they will put a coin on a paper plate for every holiday in the year. They also are making houses for Mrs. Cecelia Parker to take back with her to Africa.

Mrs. Olive Merring and Mrs. Elizabeth Evans are the hostesses for next month. Mrs. Henrietta George was named to the committee to clean, Dues and Christmas card money were turned in. They reported it to be a very successful project.

Present were Mrs. Olive Merring, Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, Mrs. Gertrude Fitzgerald, Mrs. Ethel Tease, Mrs. Vivian Butz, Mrs. Anna Serfass, Mrs. Dyanne Serfass, Mrs. Mae Groner, Mrs. Mary Post and grandson, Michael Altomose, Mrs. Henrietta George and Mrs. Margaret Smith.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

If you are one of those persons who fear the "Godliness" of modern times, you may be encouraged to learn that the Bible continues to reign unchallenged as the world's best selling book, and that 1956 sales were up about 10 per cent over 1955, the previous peak year. Americans alone purchased more than 8 million copies of the Scripture last year.

A recently released publishers' report indicates that the King James version is still the popular favorite, with an estimated sale of 6 million copies far outstripping the sales of all other translations combined. However, the new revised standard version is growing in popularity and holds second place with sales just short of one million copies. This particular version is of special interest here, as I recall, since Dr. Luther Weigle, dean emeritus of the Yale Divinity School, was instrumental in its editing and production. Dr. Weigle is known to many Monroe Countians, being an uncle of the Rev. Daniel Nicely who was, for a number of years, pastor of the Tannersville Lutheran church.

Undoubtedly the RSV, as the trade refers to it, (meaning Revised Standard Version) is a scholarly book which does much to simplify Bible reading for the layman... but there are still some 7,000,000 recent purchasers who prefer the majestic language of the King James version. As Dr. Paul J. Jewett, professor of theology at Fuller Theological Seminary, explains, the King James version undoubtedly holds its grasp on readers because of its "vastly superior literary quality."

The Douay version of the Bible, which is standard for American Catholics, sold 750,000 copies last year. Jewish Bibles, 70,000; and modern translations other than the RSV... about 25,000. Prices range from 25c for a paper-back edition, to 265.00 for the most comprehensively annotated editions. There are sizes tiny enough to fit into the palm of one's hand... and 20-volume Braille editions for the blind. About half of all the Bibles sold in our country are produced by the World Publishing Company. Also the Bible is available on long-playing records for those sightless who are not Braille-trained.

Here at Wyckoff's we have a steady sale of the "best selling book in the world". From the number we sell month after month in shade gold-lettered white covers, there is no doubt in our minds that the Bible is as much a part of the wedding trousseau as the veil itself... and it undeniably should be.

Somehow I felt this article would be a pleasant one to use today... if only as proof that, come rock and roll or what have you, there are still millions of families with their feet on the ground. The youngsters may rough it up to the beat of "You're Nothin' but a Hound Dog"... but they aren't going to the dogs yet! "Peyton Place" may make the best seller lists for a time... but its success is only a small drop in a very large bucket... and Charlton Heston as Moses in "The Ten Commandments" is causing just as much excitement as Elvis in "Love Me Tender". It's just that Moses' press agent makes far less ado about it than does the Presley fan club.

Sally Ferrebee Explains Selection of Best-Dressed

Open Letter to Bobby Westbrook, Dear Bobby:

I think I was as surprised when I read your "Just Between Us" this morning as were those 18 ladies yesterday morning who listened to "Women's World" to find they'd suddenly become a celebrity! And, you know, I've never been called "brave" before and I feel this is a compliment I just can't ignore! (I've a sneaky feeling I might have been called a few other things since the program yesterday, and you're no doubt the nicest — and for this I am most appreciative!)

However, and this is the real reason for this letter, I cannot accept the credit for having all the discriminating taste that was very necessary to bestow the honor on those ladies! In fact, I can't accept any of it. I only wish I could. I felt it only fair to explain to those who might not have had an opportunity to listen, how and why it was done.

The New York Dress Institute who selects by ballot the list of the best dressed gals in the world has been criticized over the years for never selecting someone from a typical American town, whose grooming and taste was every bit as noteworthy as the celebrities. So I decided to do a typical list from a typical town — naturally ours — and now I'll quote my exact words from yesterday's script:

"So today we remedy this oversight and for the past weeks I have been very busy, very business-like and on the up-and-up, too." (The New York Institute balloting among designers, fashion editors, very important people and prominent persons all over the world, is on the up-and-up and not a gimmick as many are misguided to think; and the winners are never told until they read it in the paper) — now back to my script:

"I have questioned folks in all walks of life — business, civic and social — all residents of many years standing here in the Stroudsburgs. Our results are just as well-kept a secret as those of the New York Dress Institute... and incidentally, although I am reporting the results, I in no way had any part in the balloting and could show no partiality on the part of any one nominated. This also goes for my sponsors and all personnel at WVPO. We were interested only as the medium who would bring the program to you! And no one but myself knew the complete result. I will say this — these 18 ladies, I am sure you will agree, are a very fine representative group who not only are a credit to our boroughs but set an example for many of us to follow. There are hundreds and hundreds more in our town who are well-dressed — there is no question about that. They have good taste and are beautifully groomed — and this is just as much a tribute to them as it is to the ones chosen to represent all of us who certainly try to look our best at all times."

So you can see, Bobby, this lets me out when it comes to your nice compliment about being discriminating. To be truthful, do you know that out of those 18, I only know ten of them personally, and of those only six well enough to call them by their first names! And if you don't think that was something — calling up eight total strangers and asking their permission to use their names on the air, and not being able to tell them why! Well, they were mighty wonderful gals, let me tell you, and that goes for all 18 for none of them knew what I had up my sleeve; and as Tennessee Ernie Ford would say, "Sometimes you jes can't tell which way that there cat is a-gonna fly." And, Bobby, if we'd a flown the wrong way, I'd be a dead duck, or a dead crow in this case.

Well, thanks a heap for lettin' me explain myself to the gals, and come to think of it, Bobby, you and I weren't even nominated. Now how do you think they could have overlooked us, huh?

By the way, if you've a minute to spare next Friday around 10:30 listen in for my whole program will be "A Letter to Sally Place." That wonderful little girl who has more courage in her fingertip than most of us got from top to bottom.

Again many thanks, and say, I swear your column is a "morning must" hereabouts. Breakfast in the Stroudsburgs would surely be a flop without you to open up our eyes, and our day. Can't think of a nicer gal to spend my mornings with than you.

Sincerely, and I mean it, "Brave" Sally Ferrebee

how hard can water get?

In a crossword puzzle, "hard water" means ice. But to most of us, hard water means a ring around the bathtub and a grey look to our clothes. Washing with rain-soft water makes clothes come whiter and with less wear. Take advantage of our laundry's soft water to make your clothes cleaner and to make them last longer too.

McCarren-Walter Act

Methodist Women Seek Act Revision

By Paul Carlson
BUCK HILL FALLS—Methodist Women's Division of Christian Service, representing more than 1,840,000 persons, has called for a "thorough revision" of the McCarren-Walter Immigration Act.

The WDCS, which ended its 17th annual session here yesterday, noted that such a revision should provide for the admission of from 250,000 to 300,000 immigrants annually, as it reaffirmed action taken by the Board of Missions in April, 1953.

"Nothing but a thorough revision of the Immigration and Naturalization Law . . . can do what we can reasonably and realistically hope to do for the refugees of the world," the statement declared.

The statement said a revision of the act can improve America's provision relative to world public opinion in four ways:

1. Increasing the number of people who can be admitted to this country by a reasonable and quite realistic appraisal of present totals.

2. Removing needless and ungracious delaying features applying to the admission of visitors from abroad.

3. Taking out of our Immigration policies all expressions of discriminatory policies relating to race or color.

4. Eliminating from naturalization processes all that tends to reduce some citizens to second class citizenship.

Statements

"The events of the last few months have dramatized the need for change in the basic immigration legislation of this country," the division added, as it adopted the recommendations of its Department of Christian Social Relations.

"It is important that we not only respond generously to the needs in relation to it," the statement affirmed.

"We should realize that there are thousands of refugees in Hong Kong, Berlin, Amsterdam, Vienna and the Near East, who have waited hopelessly in refugee camps for years," it added.

The statement recommended that "primary responsibility" in the reception and resettlement of Hungarian refugees should be given to responsible and experienced private organizations.

It "deplored" hearings proposed by Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), co-author of the Immigration law, relative to the recent admission of Hungarian refugees.

"We feel that the implications of this may create unnecessary insecurity among refugees with accomplishing any desirable results."

The division also urged that "every possible channel for progress in disarmament be explored with patience and willingness to consider any sincere proposals embodying the essentials of safe and effective disarmament."

Tests

"We affirm our belief that useful first steps in disarmament may be the cessation of tests of nuclear weapons, and the 'open skies' inspection project," the statement declared. "We stress the fact that these are not disarmament, and that the objective should be universal, enforceable disarmament applying to all weapons."

In other action, the division authorized its president, Mrs. J. Fount Tillman, to inform President Eisenhower by letter that the WDCS favored the return of confiscated German and Japanese property as "evidence of our faith in the system of property rights and in observance of American international legal practice."

Mrs. Tillman also was authorized to commend the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for "their use of the channels of mediation provided by the UN in connection with the Suez and the Hungarian crises and ask that this policy be continued."

The division also took these positions on the following other problems:

1—It urged the extension "on a long-term basis" of reciprocal trade agreements and authorization for the United States to join the Organization for Trade Cooperation.

2—It expressed "continued concern" that the U. S. appropriation to UNICEF be adequate, and that Congress "increase technical assistance appropriations, divorce such assistance from military programs, channel a large proportion of assistance through the UN, and support SUNFED."

3—Concerning the Bricker amendment, it concluded the limitations proposed in the amendment for making international treaties "would cripple the executive branch of the government in its foreign negotiations."

4—It authorized its president to write Vice-President Nixon and Senate leaders urging them to "use every means" to revise Senate Rule 22, thereby making possible for a curb on filibustering in the Upper House.

Conference

The group also voted that the WDCS cooperate with the Board of Social and Economic Relations in planning and sponsoring a national Methodist Conference on Race in 1959.

It also appointed a committee to study the possibility of merging separate residence homes operated by the division for Negro and white business girls in Cincinnati, Ohio, into one integrated residence.

If the committee, and then the division, approve the merger, it will be the first the WDCS has integrated racially parallel residences into a single interracial unit. In such cities as New York, where the division maintains only one residence, such homes have been integrated for many years.

Some 600 persons will be attending sessions of the annual meeting of the Board of Missions, largest agency of the denomination, which began today and will continue through Friday.

Highlighting the sessions will be a report on the status of Methodists in Hungary and Poland, which will be presented by Dr. Eugene L. Smith, general secretary of the Division of World Missions.

It is also expected that the Division of National Missions will complete the legal organization of the Alaska Methodist College, and that the charter will be presented.

Congregational Meeting At Grace Lutheran

ANNUAL congregational meeting of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the chapel of the parish house. Mrs. Alford Meyer, lay vice president of the Church Council, will preside.

The congregational meeting will be preceded by a covered dish supper at 6:30 p. m. in the newly redecorated social rooms. Each family is asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service. The Women's Guild is taking care of the arrangements for this function of the parish.

Reports

Advance reports indicate that Grace Church enjoyed the best year in its 60 year history, both numerically and financially. Three deacons, one deaconess and one trustee will be elected tonight to serve three-year terms on the vestry. Those council members whose terms expired are: Mrs. Stella Nace, Howard Kintner, Milton Walton, John Skeldon and Gerald A. Snyder. Each auxiliary and organization will present reports of last year's activities.

Mimeographed financial statements of both church and Sunday School will be given each member attending. The 1957 budget will be presented for adoption. Pastor William Wunder will present his report on all pastoral activities for 1956 and point the congregation to the tasks which lie ahead.

Plans Made For Ice Skating

Opening prayer was by the Rev. W. L. Hackman, pastor. Dale Eden, president, was in charge. Leonard Farace gave the treasurer's report.

Mass Initiation Of 85 New American Legion Members Takes Place At George N. Kemp Post

A MASS initiation of 85 new American Legion members from Monroe, Northampton and Carbon Counties (the 30th Legion District) was staged yesterday at George N. Kemp Post, East Stroudsburg.

In charge of ritual for the ceremony was the Ritual Team of the Fifth Legion District, Philadelphia. Ellsworth Palmer, 30th district commander, Easton, supervised the meeting.

A lunch was served for visitors and honored guests before the meeting and all those attending were guests at a dinner at 5 p.m. at the post following the ritual.

The ceremony was held at 2:30. Among the main guests of honor and speakers were: Thomas J. Kane, Philadelphia, Eastern Vice Commander, who discussed legislation concerning veterans' affairs and "Americanism" in practice and theory; Frank Wenben, Fifth District Commander, Philadelphia; Ralph Koehler, Palmerton, Department Sergeant-at-Arms; Melvin McElwaine, Stroudsburg, Eastern Section Sergeant-at-Arms.

Local officials who took part in the ceremony were: William Morohuech, post commander; Earl Palmer, who reported on the area blood donor program carried on by Legion members and Elmer Heffer, former 30th District Commander.

Attending the meeting with the ritual team from Philadelphia were about 45 members from that area.

District Commander Palmer said following the meeting that reports from all parts of the area show that membership rolls are increasing at a more rapid rate than at any time in recent history. Palmer said that total district membership is now "well over 1,000 more than at this same time in 1956."

The 30th District now stands in 15th place in total strength among the 26 districts in this State, he said. He praised membership chairmen and all workers in Legion posts for their active and aggressive campaign to bring in new Legionnaires.

A FORMER Bangor resident and athlete gained for the second time a position on the Little All-America football team. He is Bill Farish, now of Huntingdon, Pa., and one of the greatest linemen ever to wear the uniform of Wilkes College.

Farish, who played sports at Bangor during his freshman and sophomore years not too long ago, was named to a guard post among football's elite in the nation's smaller colleges. Last year, 1955 that is, Farish also won the guard post over thousands of collegiate grid-ers.

Farish, who played sports at Bangor during his freshman and sophomore years not too long ago, was named to a guard post among football's elite in the nation's smaller colleges. Last year, 1955 that is, Farish also won the guard post over thousands of collegiate grid-ers.

This is good praise, considering it comes from a man who has seen the best along the way.

If Bob Mikvy isn't a unanimous choice for the State Belt who worked in two games that Farish played in last season said, "Farish, was by far, the best lineman I've seen in all my years of playing and officiating football."

There is very few shots in the books the Palmetton sharpshooter doesn't possess. And he is not the type of a player when he starts having a bad night it means it will continue for the rest of the evening.

Against the Mountaineers in the first half the good-looking youngster missed 11 shots from the field in notching seven points. But in the second half, he missed only three and rang up 21 for a grand total of 28 for 30 minutes work. (He was out the last two minutes of the fray.)

On defense, he's just as good. His rebounding gave the Bombers possession more times than you can say Robinson Jack.

For our dough, he's best around these days and Palmetton knows it, and when you consider the team has won 34 straight Lehigh Valley League contests, 13 consecutive exhibition and circuit games this year since he's been tossed 'em in up Carbon County way.

Taking nothing away from Win Evans, (after all, he is the coach) Mikvy can make or break the Bombers this year in their bid for PIAA championship honors. However, the biggest obstacles the Bombers will have to get by is Allentown High. And they have an all-star in the person of Bob Heffner.

It should be quite a battle when the two teams and especially Haffner and Mikvy match abilities. It's early but this year we like the Canaries. In this one, anyway.

Doug Schoonover over at East Stroudsburg revealed in his two-point victory over Hellertown that he has gotten a little more scoring balance on his team since the season got under way.

In the early goings, the point-getting was strictly on the shoulders of King Beers. As a result the elongated Cavalier push shot artist was drawing the defense of each foe squarely around him. As a result, Eastburg was having its troubles getting an offense working on all cylinders.

Now, sophomore Jim Kindrew has shown he can pitch 'em in, and junior Dale Metzgar is capable of hitting the double figures. Along with this, Tony Harlacher is rounding into shape after being out with a leg injury.

"Things are not as bad at the Courtland St. school as was inked back in December, 1956. With Beers always a threat, and Kindrew and Metzgar and Harlacher moving steadily into this class, the Cavaliers of Schoonover are showing that balance is more than just a word pin-pointed by Webster.

Bill Frear, a nice guy is if there ever was one, was as proud as a peacock of his jay-vees' of Chestnut Hill High for their "upset of the area's year" in halting the 37-game winning streak of Pocono Twp. junior varsity.

The win took some of the bad taste away from the Hillers' varsity loss to Harry Werkeiser's unbeaten Monroe League precursors. Incidentally the cry around the Monroe circuit is "Who is going to stop the Pocono varsity surge?"

Knicks Breeze Past Warriors

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Holding Philadelphia to only 11 points in the first quarter and Neil Johnston scoreless throughout the first half, the New York Knickerbockers breezed to a 101-90 victory over the Warriors today in a ragged NBA game at Madison Square Garden.

Three-Fold Honors Heaped On STC Booters, Coach

Special To Daily Record

NEW YORK — Three-fold honors were bestowed on East Stroudsburg State Teachers College's soccer team, players and coach at the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Soccer Association here at the Hotel Statler over the weekend.

ESSTC's booting squad was named the outstanding regional soccer team in a vote of the members; Tom D'Armi and Ernie Howe, Warrior booters, received citations for being named to the All-America Soccer Team; and East Stroudsburg coach John Eiler was elected president of the National Soccer Coaches Association.

The laurels heaped on the Warriors' kickers takes in the Eastern part of the United States. They beat out such outstanding teams as Navy, West Chester, Penn State as well as other top aggregations from New York, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Virginia.

6-1 Record

The Warriors finished the 1956 campaign with a 6-1 record, losing only to Lock Haven in an upset. D'Armi, a goalie, and Howe, an outside right, were cited for gaining honorable mention on the All-America Team. Both boys, underclassmen at the Hill school, received the honors at a banquet Saturday night in the Statler.

20-Year Vet

Eiler, who just completed his first year tutoring the booters at the East Stroudsburg after compiling an enviable record at Slippery Rock Teachers, was named president at the completion of the three-day conference. He is a veteran of 20 years experience in the soccer field.

Other Business

In other business the conference selected Trinity College, of Hartford, Conn., the outstanding soccer team in the nation; and named Richard W. Schmeler, assistant to the president of Rensselaer Poly Tech., for the honor award for outstanding service to the sport.

Schmeler, a former coach, also was reelected vice president of the association.

Unnoticed Pro 'Comes Down' To Win $1200

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 13 (AP)—Unnoticed in a field of more famous shot-makers, W. A. (Bub) Pagan of West Palm Beach came out of the clouds today to pick up $1,200 first money in the $5,894 Miami Beach Pro-Amateur golf tournament on a five-under-par 67.

Pagan has been a pro only four years. He still works as a fire captain at West Palm Beach. He plays only four or five tournaments a year, all within the state. Despite a sparkling eagle on the first hole and an outgoing 32, which Pagan coupled with 35 on the way back, he was overlooked by most of the gallery as it followed such stalwarts as Sam Snead, Bob Toski and Herman Barron.

Worsham Way Off

Lou Worsham, Fort Lauderdale, among the last finishers, was second with a 36-33-69 for $800 second money.

Crowes Insurance of East Stroudsburg, with a 2065 effort, powered its way to a 3-1 decision over Gebhardt Bowling Supply in a Delaware Valley Bowling League match at Harmon's Recreation Saturday night.

Leading the way for the East Stroudsburg team was Captain Jake Nittel with 621, via a 235 singleton. He was followed by Johnny Javitt's 605, generated on a 227 score.

Powerhouse Fires Continue To Dominate State Schoolboy Scene

HARRISBURG, Jan. 13 (AP)—Powerhouse fires across the state continue to dominate the scholastic basketball scene and, barring a surprise, should continue their winning ways through the current week.

Tuesday's schedule brings state champion Farrell back into action against Sect. III opposition in the WPIAL against Ambridge. It is unlikely the Steelers will drop this one. They trimmed Ellwood City, which in turn bounced Ambridge, 65-59, Friday.

Main opposition to Farrell and its all-state shot maker, Don Jones seems to be Sharon, still unscarred in Sect. III, and a 50-39 winner over Alliquippa Friday.

TULSA MIXED CHORUS CONDUCTOR—A. R. Hestwood, will conduct the University of Tulsa Mixed Chorus when the nationally known group appears at East Stroudsburg Junior High School, Monday, Jan. 21. The highly talented unit will appear here through the auspices of the East Stroudsburg Band Mothers and the East Stroudsburg Varsity "E" Club. Tickets for the event are no sale in East-burg schools and also at Paul Lloyd's Sporting Goods Store.

Rechichar's 4 Field Goals Leads West To All-Pro Win

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13 (AP)—Four magnificent field goals by Bert Rechichar were more than enough to give the West a 19-10 victory over the East today in the annual Pro Bowl battle of the finest players of the National Football League.

A crowd of 44,17 saw the husky 210-pound back of the Baltimore Colts send the ball off his right foot for field goals of 52, 44, 42 and 41 yards to give the West 12 points.

Sent Ahead
Twice the former Tennessee star sent his teammates from the western conference of the NFL into the lead and his last two field goals were simply frosting on the cake.

Rechichar's opposite number for the East, Sam Baker of the Washington Redskins, also thrilled the crowd with a field goal from 52 yards out.

The game was hard played and at no time dull.

Only 2 TDs
There were only two touchdowns scored one by each team, but the wide open play was as good as any regular season contest put on by the individual and well organized NFL teams.

The West scored first, with quarterback Ed Brown of the Chicago Bears sneaking for one yard in the first quarter. Kyle Rote of the league champion New York Giants tied it up for the East in the second period when he recovered a fumble in the end zone by his teammate, halfback Frank Gifford.

East 0 7 3 0—10
West 7 3 3 6—19

East scoring: Touchdown, Rote (recovered fumble in end zone); Conversion: Baker; field goal: Baker (52 yards).

West scoring — Touchdown: Brown (1, plunge); Conversion: Layne; field goals: Rechichar 4 (41, 44, 42, 52).

Pistons Edge Hawks, 91-89

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 13 (AP)—Two free throws by George Yardley, with 33 seconds to play, gave Fort Wayne's Pistons a 91-89 National Basketball Assn. victory over the St. Louis Hawks today after the score was tied 19 times and the lead had changed 15 times.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs today announced the signing of pitchers Joe Nuxhall and Don Gross, and outfielder Gus Bell, bringing to 20 the number of players under contract.

Undeclared Coal Twp., a perennial winner of the Keystone League title and after its sixth consecutive loop, crown is the prime contender for the Dist. 4 pennant. The coolers won their 11th straight for the season Friday, dumping Shamokin, 57-43.

Meanwhile, Williamsport's grip on the district title seemed to be failing. The millionaires were upended by potent Altoona, Dist. 6, King, 54-42 in an inter-district game for the two independent clubs.

Williamsport is still far from the 60 per cent win showing required for independent clubs to get into district playoffs.

The state's other major unbeaten squad is McKeesport, state champion two years ago. The club drew its 11th straight win against rugged WPIAL competition Friday by dumping Munhall, 43-34.

District champions elsewhere came through in good style, with the exception of hapless Radnor, of Dist. 1, which was hard hit by graduation. The Sect. II title ap-

Kings Downs STC Quintet Via Wallace

KINGSTON — A record-shattering scoring performance by Kings College's Joe Wallace overshadowed a great one-two effort by East Stroudsburg State Teachers' Dave (Kelly) McLaughlin and Charlie German here Saturday night and the Monarchs dumped the Warriors, 101-93.

Wallace, captain of Kings five, ripped the nets for 41 points to establish a new school mark, and lead the Monarchs to their sixth victory in eight games.

McLaughlin, the Warriors leading point-setter for the season, increased his over-all total with a 29-point spree, while teammate German, also a consistent double-figure hitter, checked in with 26.

But their combined total of 55 failed to save the men of Jim Reed from going down to their third setback in seven outings.

The contest was fairly close in the first half as the Warriors managed to pull to within three, 40-37 at halftime. However in the final 20 minutes the Monarchs opened up at times, 20-point spreads to completely dominate the play to the final whistle.

Statistics
East Stroudsburg hit on 37 of 83 shots from the field, while Kings made 41 of 90, of which Wallace had 16 for 34. On the foul line, ESSTC connected 19 for 30 and the Monarchs made 19 for 39.

The Warriors problem was off the boards where they were able only to grab nine offensive rebounds. The Redmen also had trouble holding on to the ball, losing possession 20 times.

East Stroudsburg's junior varsity went into the win column in the preliminary, stopped King's underlings, 54-45. Dave Dennis led the Little Warriors with 13.

Millersville Next
East Stroudsburg, now on a losing streak of two which started after the holidays following a four-game win skein, will resume basketball activity this Saturday when they take on Millersville STC on the down-staters hardwoods.

In their first game of the season, East Stroudsburg bowed to Millersville, which is rated the "team to beat" for Pennsylvania State Teachers Conference laurels.

STC Girls Rap Misericordia In Court Inaugural, 65-45

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers' girls varsity basketball team opened its 1957 season in glittering fashion Saturday when they defeated Misericordia's ladies, 65-45, in the Warriorettes' gymnasium.

The Warriorettes of Miss Anne Venezia had little trouble turning back the invaders, using 19 players in the conquest.

Boyd Is High
Lorraine Boyd led the Warriorettes' attack, cashing in 30 points, on 13 field goals and four fouls. Trailing the STC sharpshooter was Nancy DeViney with 14.

East Stroudsburg, led by play-makers Doris Herrmann and Ophe Enser and "Needie" Schaffer, bounced out to a 21-10 lead in the first period and increased the spread to 40-20 at halftime. They led 50-28 at the end of three quarters.

In Command
Misericordia, which came here with a 1-0 record following an upset of Wilkes College, never could get going as Venezia's proteges pressured them from start to finish.

The Warriorettes will be idle until Saturday, Feb. 2, when they host Cheyney's girls in a 4 p.m. contest in the Hill gym.

Cocaptains of this year's ESSTC sextette are Herrmann and DeViney.

Only points
ESSTC's lone points were chalked up when Bill Disher wrestled to a 0-0 draw with Millersville's Ernie Husband.

However, the best match of the dual affair saw East Stroudsburg's Bob Zarbatany lose out on a 1-0 verdict to Millersville's Jim Weingartner.

Close Match
The match was close right down to the wire with the Easton resident wearing ESSTC colors losing out on the referee's decision.

The loss was the second straight for East Stroudsburg, who will be idle until Jan. 30 when they stack up against West Chester STC on the Golden Rams' mats.

Saturday's summaries:
123 Feller, Millersville, decision; Cribbenberger, East Stroudsburg, 6-3.

Hebert Wins $15,000 Bing 'Clambake'

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Jan. 13 (AP)—Louisiana's Jay Hebert, refusing to yield to pressure or the cold gusty wind, today won Bing Crosby's $15,000 national Pro-Amateur golf tournament by shooting a two-under-par 70 for a 54-hole total of 213.

Calm until he holed out a 22-foot putt on the 18th green to capture the first major title of his eight-year pro career, the 33-year-old former Marine infantry officer threw his putter into the air and waved his cap to the big gallery on the Pebble Beach course.

Clinches Verdict
The putt clinched his victory over Cary Middlecoff, the U.S. Open champion and winner here the past two years.

Middlecoff finished two strokes back in second place with a 72 today, giving him a total of 215. Canada's Stan Leonard from Vancouver who shot a 74 for a 216 total was third.

Hebert collected the $2,500 first prize money with Middlecoff getting $1,500 and Leonard $1,000.

Mickey Wright Sea Island Victor

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Jan. 13 (AP)—Pretty Mickey Wright of San Diego opened the women's professional golf season today with a three-stroke victory in the Sea Island Invitational.

Jayhawks, Tarheels Continue Along Unbeaten College Path

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Kansas Jayhawks and North Carolina Tarheels, the nation's top-ranked college teams, continued along basketball's unbeaten path over the weekend while runners-up Kentucky and Southern Methodist also gained ground in conference competition.

The Jayhawks made 12-0 Saturday night by tripping Kansas State 51-45. Wilt (The Skill) Chamberlain scored 30 points as Kansas came from behind, taking the lead for the first time with 4:15 left in the Big Seven game. Chamberlain had 10 points in the final four minutes.

Second-ranked North Carolina had an easier time of it. Led by Lennie Rosenblyth's 30 points, the Tarheels made it 14 in a row by defeating Virginia 102-90 in the Atlantic Coast Conference. North Carolina is 5-0 in the ACC.

Gets Score

Kentucky (No. 3) got a scare before subduing Louisiana State 51-45 in the Southeastern Conference and tied Alabama for the lead. Southern Methodist (No. 4) remained undefeated in the Western Conference with a convincing 79-63 victory over Texas Christian. The triumph put Kentucky's record at 11-2 and SMU's at 13-1.

There were a potful of surprises in other conference tussles.

Indiana, Minnesota and Northwestern each lost its first Big Ten game, leaving Ohio State at the top of the heap with a 2-0 mark.

Purdue held Indiana star Archie Dees to 15 points to beat the Hoosiers 70-64. Iowa, the defending titleholder, dumped Minnesota 80-66. Michigan came from behind in the last 2½ minutes on Ron Kramer's hook shot to nip Northwestern 64-63. And Illinois, the pre-season favorite, walloped Wisconsin 79-63 with the help of George Bonasile's 21 points.

Bradley In Van
Bradley took over sole possession of the Missouri Valley Conference lead by beating Tulsa 67-56 while Houston turned in a stunning upset by knocking off Oklahoma A&M 64-52. In another league game, St. Louis put together a second half rally to overhaul Detroit 84-75.

Princeton retained its Ivy League top spot with a one-sided 74-54 triumph over Cornell. The Tigers won 3-0 in the circuit. Dartmouth, tied for second with Columbia and Yale, elbowed Brown 93-56 and two field goals by Jack Follman in the last 90 seconds carried Penn to a 65-63 victory over Harvard.

Columbia and Yale came through handsomely in non-league games. The Lions got 44 points from little Chet Forte to wallopp Rutgers 93-82 while the Elis beat Army 65-54.

31st Straight

In the far west, UCLA, ranked eighth nationally, rode to its 31st consecutive Pacific Coast Conference victory, 83-62 over Washington State. Dave Gamble had 28 points as Oregon State surprised Southern California 67-54. Washington easily got past Idaho 71-49 and California won its fifth straight in the PCC by downing Oregon 71-57.

Duke remained right behind North Carolina in the ACC race by downing Clemson 80-70 behind Bobby Joe Harris' 28 points. The Blue Devils are 4-1. Wake Forest, trailing by 11 points after 10 minutes, stormed back to whip South Carolina 75-71.

Georgia, with a strong finish, handed Auburn its first Southeastern Conference setback 72-72 while Georgia Tech went ahead in the last two minutes to down Mississippi State 80-77 and Tulane cracked a 13 point deficit to nip Tennessee 77-71.

In other league games, Richmond beat William and Mary 68-55 and the Citadel, on Dick Wherry's basket in the final three seconds, edged Furman 77-76 in the avenged earlier Big Seven defeat by defeating Nebraska 60-56. And the Baylor Bears turned back Arkansas 52-51 in the Southwest.

In another upset, Mississippi broke the nine-game winning streak of sixth-ranked Vanderbilt, 68-66. Joe Gibson had 29 points for Ole Miss, which is 6-4 for the campaign. Vandy is now 9-2.

Trounces Navy

In a Madison Square Garden doubleheader, Manhattan's Jaspers, winners of last month's ECAC holiday Festival, trounced Navy 97-76 and Mullenberg beat NYU 82-69.

Elsewhere, Canisius, ranked 14th in the latest Associated Press poll, mauled St. Vincent (Pa.) 102-53. Hot Rod Rundt scored 34 points to spark West Virginia to a 92-70 triumph over Villanova. Syracuse

Welter Comer Sugar Hart Will Seek 11th Consecutive

By MURRAY ROSE

The Associated Press

GARNETT (Sugar) Hart, a 21-year old welterweight boxer who has all the equipment to go to the top, aims for his 11th straight victory tomorrow night when he faces Gene Johns, another bright prospect, in a 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas arena.

Hart was nicknamed Sugar because he resembles Sugar Ray Robinson facially and in his boxing style. But Sugar Robinson will be in the corner of his New York protégé, Johns, and rooting for the other Sugar to get beaten. Hart is a 13-5 favorite.

18-1 Record

The Philadelphia has a 18-1 record including 16 knockouts. Hart's only defeat was one round knockout by Fred Terry March 22, 1955. Johns' record is 18-4-2 with only two knockouts.

Starting at 10:30 p. m., the bout will be telecast over a network (Dumont-TV).

In another Monday night scrap, Vince Martinez, hard-hitting welterweight contender from Paterson, N. J., will meet Pedro Jimenez of Spain, in a 10-rounder at Toronto.

picked up its eighth straight by tripping Boston University 87-69; Cincinnati rallied midway in the second half to beat La Salle 74-53; Connecticut broke a three game losing streak in crushing Holy Cross 97-72; Maryland trounced George Washington 68-48; Notre Dame defeated Loyola of Chicago 90-76 and San Francisco beat Fresno State 68-56.

Four former Michigan State boxers turned professional. They are Chuck Davey, Ted Black, Herb Odum and Chuck Slesier.

Miguel Berrios, the Puerto Rican featherweight dynamo, seeks his fifth straight win in the Wednesday night radio-television (ABC, 10 p. m.) 10-rounder at Boston's Mechanics Building. The 5-2 contender takes on slick boxer Gil Cadilli, Los Angeles. Berrios' record is 20-6 with three kayos. Cadilli's record is 26-3-3 including nine kayos.

Tiger Is Set

Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., and Hardy Smallwood of Brooklyn, a couple of free-swinging middleweights, substitute for Carmen Basilio and Johnny Saxton at Cleveland Friday night (NBC radio-TV, 10 p. m.) The welterweight title fight had to be postponed until February because of an injury to Basilio's right hand.

Jones, a high ranking middleweight contender, is the 4-1 choice. Smallwood, who split in two rousing fights with Gaspar Ortega, has dropped four in a row—to Yama Bahama, Tex Gonzalez, Ortega and Lalo Scorticini. His record is 18-8-2, including 4 knockouts. Jones' record is 41-17-3 with 11 kayos.

Syracuse Sweeps Rochester Series

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 13 (UP)—Finishing strongly in a tensely-fought game, the Syracuse Nationals swept their weekend NBA series with the Rochester Royals by earning a 91-85 victory today. Bob Harrison's push shot which broke an 82-all tie with two minutes left put the Nats ahead to stay.

Requests For Social Security Show Increase

SINCE AUG. 1 the date when the most recent amendments to the Social Security program became law, 2,200 persons in the Stroudsburg-Easton area have applied for social security benefits.

In making this announcement yesterday Harry R. Peterman, district manager for the Social Security Administration, said that in the nation as a whole seven million persons age 65 and over were getting old-age or survivors insurance payments by the end of last November. With two million beneficiaries under age 65, children under 18 and wives, widows, and aged parents—the total number of beneficiaries of the Federal insurance system will go past nine million during this month. This represents an increase of one million since last January.

Rapid Growth
This rapid growth in the beneficiary rolls is due in part to the gradual long-term increase in the size of the insured population, especially at the older ages, but in larger part to features included in amendments to the Social Security Act passed in recent years—coverage of such groups as self-employed farmers, agricultural workers and professional people, liberalization of the retirement test, and reduction of the age at which women may claim benefits to 62.

Peterman said that the total of 2,200 new beneficiaries in the district served by the Easton social security office area includes 900 retired workers age 65 and over. In addition, over 800 women between the ages of 62 and 65 have applied for benefits which first became payable for the month of November.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Too much aggressiveness is neither helpful nor needed, but steady effort and a pleasant approach to trying matters will bring unexpected and welcome gains. Have cheer, hope.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Step up tempo reasonably, side-step annoyances, make the advancement you can on this promising day. Mechanical trades, mining, road-building, work with tools especially favored.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't be content to "wait" for opportunities or eventualities. Go after them ones. Meet with competitors and top their achievements. You have talent, adaptability, use them.

YOU BORN TODAY are philosophical, a deep thinker, enterprising, fond of learning. You have organizing ability and can fit your mind for truly high achievement; can do well in a scientific or medical career, or in a religious calling. Never fear ridicule or the doubts of others. Go on with faith and determination to the goal you know you can attain. Obstacles need be no barrier to your success. Don't hide your true ideas and talents from the world. Avoid extremes of optimism and gloom. Birthdate: Pierre Loti, Jr.

Greene-Dreher Firemen Elect Officers

NEWFOUNDLAND—Election of officers for 1957 highlighted the January meeting of the Greene-Dreher Volunteer Fire Association, with Harold Peet succeeding Bruce Banks as president.

Peet heads these officers also elected: Robert Beehn, vice president; Leon Shelbert, financial secretary; William Evans, treasurer; Emil Schoenagel Jr., recording secretary; Charles Ehrhardt, fire chief; Stanley Peet, assistant fire chief; Webster Gilpin, electrician; Dr. R. A. Christman, Dr. A. V. Lupeho, and Dr. Frank Urdel, first aid; Jake Robacker, engineer; Harold Peet, first assistant engineer; Robert Beehn, second assistant engineer; Bruce Banks, trustee.

Of particular interest to firefighters at the meeting was a discussion of a proposed training program on the local level, to acquaint each fireman with the operation of all equipment. The "School" was approved and will be held at 7:30 each Thursday for the benefit of the active firemen and any interested members. Further information on the training program may be obtained from Emil Schoenagel, Jr., it was announced.

Project
Another project approved at the January meeting was the drawing up of an enlarged map of the three townships served by the local company, and outlining districts in which they may be called to assist. The map will specifically show all available water supplies other than creeks, rivers, etc., and will be laid out so that distances from homes and depth of water supply may be easily computed.

Representatives from the branch company stationed at Promised Land attended the meeting.

The annual oyster stew concocted by "Chef" Bub Besecker was a feature of the January session. The next meeting will be held on February 5.

THE GREAT GIFT: GOOD FAMILIES—This was the theme of "Holy Family Sunday" discussion at yesterday's annual St. Matthew's Parish Holy Name Society Communion Breakfast. Attendance was the largest (212 members and guests) in history of the organization. Among principals were (seated) Andy LaBar, toastmaster, Fr. John Esseff, chaplain-moderator; Fr. George DePrizio, CSC, main speaker; Joseph Dane, president; (standing) Ed Yost and William Adelmann, co-chairmen; Eugene McNamara, secretary; Tom Verway, treasurer and Ed Gunnel, vice president. Not present when the photograph was taken: Fr. Harold Durkin, pastor of St. Matthew's Parish.

St. Matthew's Holy Name Society Celebrates 'Holy Family Sunday' Communion Breakfast

By Leonard Randolph
MEMBERS of the Holy Name Society of St. Matthew's Parish marked "Holy Family Sunday" yesterday with a Communion Breakfast, a sermon outlining the abiding love of Joseph for Mary and Jesus and a breakfast talk which urged the men to stop taking their love for family for granted and to start working at it full-time.

The breakfast was held at 10:15 a. m. in the Penn-Stroud Hotel ballroom. Main speaker was Fr. George DePrizio, provincial of the Holy Cross Fathers, former dean of men at King's College, now a resident of North Dartmouth, Mass.

Before the hotel meeting, Society members attended 9 a. m. mass in a group at St. Matthew's Church and received communion in a body.

Dr. DePrizio began his talk by first praising the sermon at mass offered by Fr. John Esseff, moderator of the Holy Name Society. In that sermon, Fr. Esseff urged the men to remember that Joseph's love for Mary was strong and that from the relationship within the Holy Family, God had established the key to successful marriage in modern times.

Question
"Do you really believe in the family and in the home?" Fr. DePrizio asked at the beginning of his talk. He pointed out that "this might seem a strange question—but it isn't, because our ideas sometimes become rusty and stagnant within us" even when we accept them as "true."

"You are, in the last analysis, the thing that really matters in your home and your family," he said. "And what is your sense of value? (In a recent encyclical) Our Holy Father said that every home should be a classroom . . . by the example of the parents. But our sense of values is weak."

He told a story of a young boy at a raffle who had won the ticket which entitled him to "any of a large number of prizes on a table." There were two "outstanding" prizes: a brand new bicycle and a large crucifix. When the boy chose the crucifix, several of the older men around him began saying: "Take the bicycle." But the boy insisted on his first choice.

"The story had a 'happy ending,' Dr. DePrizio said, because when the boy got home he found the bicycle there, too. "Which may prove that if we select and choose first the things of God, the things of the Earth will follow."

Many American men, the priest continued, "have reached a point where family life becomes merely an administrative system and the father is a sort of district manager (who) pays the bills (fixes) the leak in the roof—but this is not fatherhood. All these are good, material things . . . but they are entirely secondary."

"Too many times, he went on, parents find it easier to say: 'That's the job of the school or the church. But there is no substitute for the home in society and there is no substitute for parents in the home.'"

"The country is becoming more and more aware of the importance of the home," he said, but he noted that some of this may be due to "billboard" advertising calling the attention of men and women to their families. "Has it reached a point where we have to have it spelled out for us on billboards before we believe it?" he asked.

Affraid
Some men are afraid to ask questions of their children because they don't want to seem "old fashioned," he said. In foreign countries, American men have been caricatured as men who have "lost their place at the head of the home."

He urged the men to exercise and instill parental authority in the family and to maintain discipline and control. Fr. DePrizio also hit at over-protectiveness on the part of parents.

"How many times do we hear Catholic men say: I don't want my son to go through what I've had to go through? If the purpose of this is merely to protect your children from poverty, then it is all right," he said.

"But if by this you mean that you do not want your son to know the meaning of sacrifice, then you have lost your sense of values," he said.

Guests at the speaker's table were Fr. Harold Durkin, pastor of St. Matthew's Church, who gave the benediction and spoke briefly to those at the breakfasts and Dr. Esseff.

Toastmaster for the breakfast was Andy LaBar. Other officers seated at the head table were: Joseph Dane, president; Ed Gunnel, vice president; Tom Verway, treasurer and Eugene McNamara, secretary.

Co-chairmen for the breakfast were William Adelmann and Ed Yost. The two were praised highly by officers and speakers for their efforts.

Dane said that yesterday's breakfast attracted the largest turnout in Holy Name history. There were 212 members and their guests at the meeting.

Church Plans For Building

BANGOR — A review of the proposed building program now being considered by the congregation of the Bangor Presbyterian Church was presented last week to a joint meeting of the session of the church and the Board of Trustees by David O. Pritchard, engineer. Following Pritchard's presentation the joint boards recommended that the building committee of the church proceed with plans for the addition to the present structure, and present them for congregational acceptance at the annual congregational meeting to be held on Wednesday, January 30.

The budget committee of the church composed of Richard Werner, clerk of session, and Harry Deshler Jr., and Carl Gilbert, co-treasurers, presented the annual budget for acceptance by the boards.

Accepted

It was accepted and ordered presented to the congregation at the annual meeting for consideration.

During the meeting of the trustees in charge of Ellsworth Morris, president, routine reports were received from church officials and minor repairs to various church areas were ordered. Oswald Evans, Elwood Mitchell and Miss Nellie Owens were named by the trustees to the auditing committee. Arthur Eden, church sexton, was commended by the trustees for the outstanding work he has been doing for the welfare of the organization. The matter of securing new carpeting in the sanctuary of the church was referred to the congregation for its consideration at the annual meeting.

Bushkill Firemen Elect Same Officers

BUSHKILL—The Bushkill Fire Co. met recently and elected officers for 1957.

They re-elected their entire slate of officers: president, Frank Messerle; vice-president, Richard DePue; secretary, Louis Lee; financial secretary, Ralph G. Turn, Jr.; treasurer, Andrew Lewis; chief, Albert M. Smith Jr., with Lawrence Dickson, first assistant and Albert Schoonover, second assistant. Chief engineer re-elected was Philip Angle. Herbert Brauer was elected trustee for a three-year term.

New Truck

The company confirmed the purchase of a new truck which will be a pumper with booster tank, Ford chassis and Ford motor from the American-LaFrance Corp. The truck will be delivered in late Spring.

Lawrence Dickson was appointed to serve as chairman for the 1957 carnival with Albert Smith Jr. as co-chairman.

The firemen held their meeting following a covered dish dinner for firemen and auxiliary members, which is held annually each January.

Stroudsburg Firemen Answer Eighteen Alarms During 1956

SOMEONE TRIED to start a fire in a stove with gasoline. That is the "probable cause" of one of 18 actual fires Stroudsburg firemen fought during 1956.

According to the yearly report submitted by Fire Chief Millard Marsh to borough council and his own department this month, here were the other listed causes:

Five were started by residents burning rubbish. A windstorm broke an electric service wire and started one. A cigarette caused one. Dirty oil burners caused two.

A dry pan on an electric range got too hot and started another one. An electric blanket set off one fire. An unidentified explosion started one more. A faulty valve in a gas stove was responsible for one fire. Grease on a hot stove started another.

An over-heated stove caused one and the cause of two was listed as "unknown." The company had one false alarm during the year.

The fires happened in a variety of places: two were in autos and trucks; two in apartments; one in a commercial building; four in dwellings; one in a garage; three in grass and rubbish-burning areas; one in a hotel; four in manufacturing plants.

Firemen spent 19 and three-quarters hours total at the fires for an average time per fire of one hour and two minutes. A total of 897 firemen answered calls for an average of 47.2 men per fire. Total number of "man hours" expended: 953.

All of the alarms were transmitted by Bell Telephone Co. staff members promptly and correctly without error, Marsh said. He asked that a letter of thanks be sent to the phone company to show appreciation of local firemen for the manner in which its employees had handled fire alarms.
